Picture

Sunderland People First produce easy read information for a variety of customers including the NHS, Local Authorities and Universities.

Picture

Public organisations such as the NHS, the Government and Local Authorities by law need to provide people with information in a form they can understand.

Picture

We have an easy read service which changes complicated information into easy read for people with learning disabilities and/or autistic people.

Picture

We have converted letters, reports, booklets, posters and leaflets into easy read versions.

Picture

We also have an easy read design service where we can create a bespoke design catered to your company. This booklet is an example of that.

Picture

Sunderland People First have a reputation for providing good quality easy read information.

Picture

People with learning disabilities are best placed to advise on how easy a document is to understand.

Picture

It is for that reason that we involve our advocates in each stage of changing a document into an easy read version.

Picture

We work with customers of our easy read service to make sure the messages they wish to put across are clear.

Picture

Sunderland People First are very proud of their work in providing this service.
